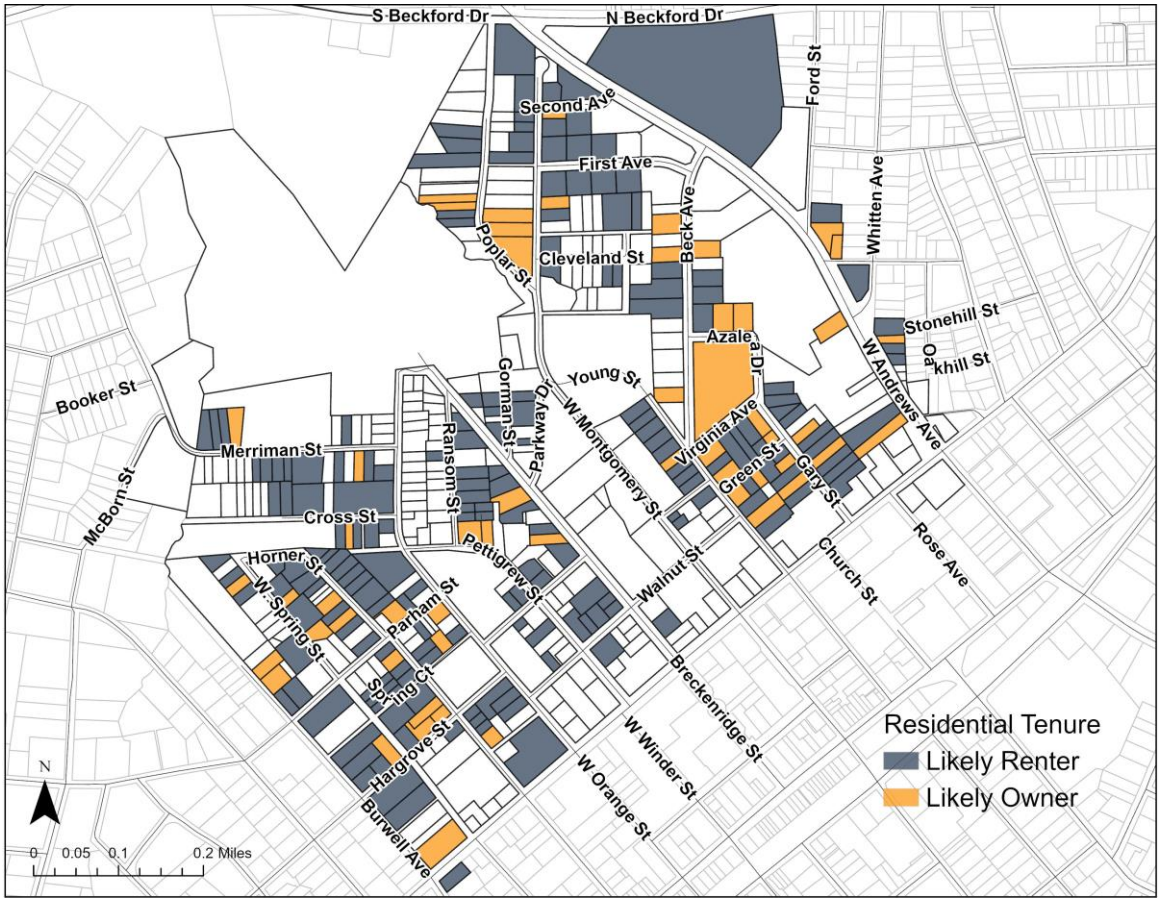
77% of Units are Likely Renter-Occupied



Note: Tenure predicted by matching the owner's address with the parcel's physical address. Homes are assumed to be owner-occupied when addresses are the same, and renter-occupied when they are different.

dfi

Widening homeownership gap between neighborhoods

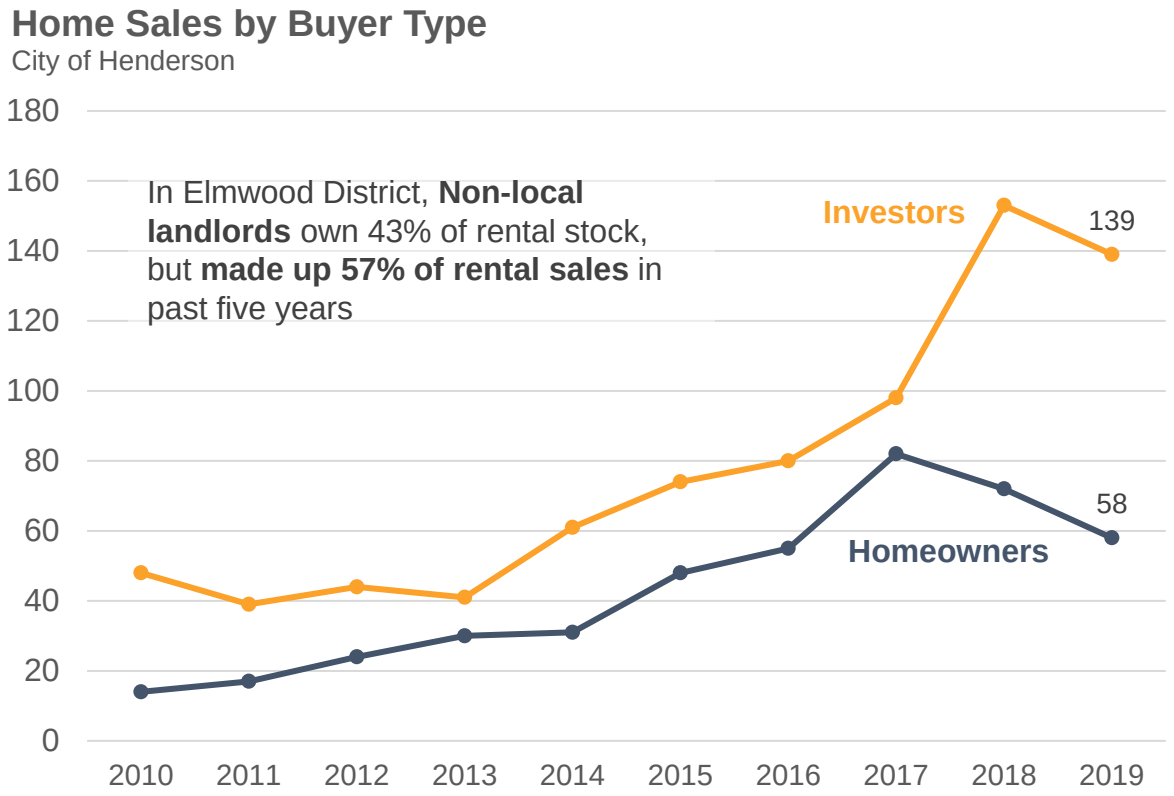
Citywide, investors are buying more homes than homeowners



Note: Investor's include owners of residential units with LLC, LP, or other

Evidence of External Beautification

- 80% of owner-occupied homes show evidence of external beautification
- Half of renter-occupied homes show evidence of external beautification
- Of rental properties with deferred maintenance, ~25% show signs of external beautification
